

Online scars & wound care community...

talkhealth is an online health community providing FREE information and support to the public. Working together with the NHS and leading charities, our health hubs are the place to find the latest health information, talk directly with experts and share your stories & experiences.

Our charity supporters:

My scar is really itchy & uncomfortable! Is there anywhere I can get information and helpful advice?

Yes! Check out talkhealth's talkscars & wound care hub - it's full of helpful articles and useful information.
